The Chance Of Dying In A Dream

Manticora

The hunter, the dark one is craving your mind Malicious, your dreaming is seen as a sign Your breath is burning, in a throat full of scream No fear, you don't have to die in a dream

Twisted, distorted. out of proportions

The eyes and the mouths are placed in random disorder

Acid smell, fear as its skin starts to gleam

You've taken the chance of dying in a dream

Scream - the chance of dying in a dream -Scream Scream, scream

Subdue to the metamorphosis of flesh
The pictures, to make you eternally mad
Beyong your reality, nothing is clear
You've waken the old ones and now they are here

Nothing is ever what it seems Open the gates for me now The calling for powers, the falling of towers, Abstract to the weak fragile human mind

Scream - the chance of dying in a dream -Scream Scream, scream
