

Always and Everywhere

Marc Almond

I'll follow you always and everywhere
Like a ghost wandering quietly behind
And with a thought oh so secret
I'll gaze into your sparkling eyes
Eyes that are tender with longing
Alight with a passionate glow
Oh so much love so much happiness
They tell me all I need to know
Always and everywhere
I will follow you

A time may come when I'm without you
And something so painful to see
Into those eyes bright with longing
Somebody else stares, not me
They'll catch someone else's attention
And your eyes will burn bright with a spark
My heart stops when I think about it
And a tear falls silently in the dark
Always and everywhere
I will follow you

Always and everywhere
I will follow you
(Russian words)
(Repeat to fade)
