For One Moment

Marc Almond

The hurt I hurt Is nothing like The hurts I've hurt before The things I feel Do not feel Like things I've felt before And the loneliness and the emptiness And the hopelessness are fine 'Cause sometimes my cloudy brain remembers For one moment you were mine The pain that pains Is not the pain That pained my heart before The tears I tear Are not the tears My eyes have teared before And the loneliness and the helplessness And the uselessness are fine 'Cause sometimes my cloudy brain remembers For one moment you were mine
