

Swan Song

Marc Almond

I'm passing the torch
Sacrificing the flame
Tongue tied and star-struck
But I'm dancing again
All you fly by night lovers
And you fair weather friends
This is my swan song
And here's where it ends
My times passed on
I no longer belong
So I'm saying goodbye
And I'll be gone
With my swan song
All you misguided souls
And lovers long lost
Pretending your something
And someone you're not
All my tears are done falling
My heart-sink to rise
This is my swan song
My smiling goodbyes
My times passed on
I no longer belong
So I'm saying goodbye
And I'll be gone
With my swan song
If I committed a crime
I'm so sorry I say
Just hand me the fine
And I'm willing to pay
A choralain
Satisfies my romance
And the song once again
Lifts my spirit to dance
All the roads
That I've walked
Through the wind and the rain
For all that I've been
I hope has not been in vain
My times passed on
I no longer belong
So I'm saying goodbye
And I'll be gone
With my swan song
I've sung all the songs
Played out all the scenes
They no longer belong
Belong to me
