

Heroine

Marc E. Bassy

Baby girl got a desperate obsession
Baby girl got a pension for breaking her own heart
As she got this dangerous inclination
To turn to stone before her love tears her apart

You like the way that she move
You wanna touch her, you wanna fuck her, don't lie, don't lie
You left your woman at home
Hoping that she'll turn a blind eye, blind eye
All of your passion is gone
You feel so empty inside, inside, inside, inside, yeah

You wanna be somebody tonight
Go get higher than you've ever been (higher than you've ever been)
She'll be the one that you need in your life
You're her hero, she your heroin
Love me like heroin

Baby girl, don't tell me that it's all wrong
And when you get too far, you come running back for more
And I know you're bulletproof as Teflon
But you know I come shooting through if unlock on the door, yeah

You like the way that she move
You wanna touch her, you wanna fuck her, don't lie, don't lie
You left your woman at home
Hoping that she'll turn a blind eye, blind eye
All of your passion is gone
You feel so empty inside, inside, inside, inside, yeah

You wanna be somebody tonight
Go get higher than you've ever been (higher than you've ever been)
She'll be the one that you need in your life
You're her hero, she your heroin
Love me like heroin

You wanna be somebody tonight
Go get higher than you've ever been
She'll be the one that you need in your life
You're her hero, she your heroin
