

Some Things Never Change

Marc E. Bassy

Oho, you too, you too
Oho, you too, you too
Oho, you too, you too
Oho, you too, you too
Money, fame, always on my brain
Oho, you too, you too
Some things never change
Oho, you too, you too
Money, fame, all that's on my brain
Oho, you too, you too
Some things never change

Every day I start the circus
We all know
Driving my clowns and conductors
On my radio, radio
Know they telling me that I must be a man
Struggle with your money baby
I fight with my hands
Excuse me Miss Jones can I talk to you?
You looking like you gonna bring me shelter
All I wanna do is walk with you
Shit get so real I don't need no other
Every day, every night, I'm turning circles in my mind
Never knew wrong from right
I don't believe that love's a crime

Oho, you too, you too
Oho, you too, you too
Oho, you too, you too
Oho, you too, you too
Money, fame, always on my brain
Oho, you too, you too
Some things never change
Oho, you too, you too
Money, fame, all that's on my brain
Oho, you too, you too
Some things never change

Life don't give us the reasons why we go
I just keep spinning like this records
On my stereo
Well you know I always like to watch you when you dance
I wonder would I be worth it
If you gave me a chance, oh yeah

Excuse miss Jones let me get in that
I try so hard just to make you see me
Did my best to move in there
You put me right back on the street so easy
Every day, every night, I'm turning circles in my mind

Oho, you too, you too

Oho, you too, you too
Money, fame, all that's on my brain
