

Nick Of Time

Marcin Rozynek

Wasting time all these years
Abusing dreams to live in sleep
In a nick of time you can throw away this way
The useless land can yield the bliss
You must drop the rain on the thirsty fields
In the nick of time you can reanimate your life
How about you
Have you all the things you need
How about you
Are you lucky and fullfilled

We've been wasting time
For all these years
Pretending in a brave way
Being different is weird
In the nick of time we can throw away this shame
The useless land can yield the bliss
You must drop the rain on the thirsty fields
In the nick of time you can reanimate your life
How about you
Have you all the things you need
How about you
Are you lucky and fullfilled
How about the race
Will you give up when you are alive
Let them share
Accidentally your own life

Now is the time. It's your own life that you see
Now is the time, will you do what you think?
Now is the time. It's your own life that you see
