

Black Eyed Sue

Marcy Playground

Sue's driving again like she's never been
And why'd she have to fly? I don't even know why
She said, "Don't you come home drunk again"

Sue's driving away, she lied to everyone
She lied to mom and dad, "He's a lovely boy, treats me fine"
She said, "Don't you come home drunk again"
No, no, no

Sue's driving away, away in the sun
And why'd she have to kill him?
Why'd she have to blow him away?

She said, "Don't you come home drunk again"
She said, "Don't you come home drunk again"
Drunk again, drunk again, drunk again, ooh
