

But since failed his world and let Dracul's enemy come from every side

Dracul has no chance but with his two hundred men into death ride

During the battle the Turkish lines to scatter

And Vlad rode up on a hill to see the inferior blood splatter

But treasonous boyars ambushed the lion to his blood spill

Dracul fought bravely but the twentieth boy would be his last kill

When the Turks found his body they cut off his head

Which was stuck on a pole in Konstantinopol to show the Muslim world

That Kaziklu Bey was dead

The night of the Lord Impalers demise the worst storm man could remember struck the land

Kaziklu Bey was dead but not gone and by thunder foe's now again could fell his hand
