Of Hells Fire

Marduk

I hear the evil calling of the spirits of the dark And see the beauty and the power of the devils mark The might always calls my name Gaze into my eyes and see the shadows of the flames Of hells fire Torture and pain I desire Let the flames reach higher And lick the realms of the Nazarene liar Dark reflections sweep the night a call from the dephts of the earth Antichrist is rising the image of Him to which hell gave birth Necromantical chants are brought forth by the winds of the nort h The message of destruction from Satan and his court The toll of damnations bell Open the gates of hell I can feel the delightful smell Of rotten souls who in darkness dwell Thou - The archangel who fell from the heavenly empire Thou - the hand that wound with evil and unholy desire Thou - The black lord of the unlight to which we all belong From the deepest part of gehenna tormented souls sings damnatio ns song Write my name with the slaughtered angels blood As I step in the face of the fallen soldiers of god All the children of Jehova will always be our prey Beyond the pearly gates we shall crush, rape, destroy and slay Grant us the first power Up from hell we storm at the witching hour Where we ride the soil turns sour The evil eye behold from hells highest tower The power of christ doesn't compell me Lucifer I kneel before thee Join the forces of Satan for you will see Grim and dark the future is going to be Of hells fire