

Too Many Heroes

Maria McKee

I used to have time on my hands
I used to have time on my hands
My world is like a cyclomen
Tied to my ankle by a piece of string
Gotta kick it around and watch it spin

I used to have time on my hands
Now I got too many heroes and not enough friends
(You were both to me)
Too many heroes and not enough friends
But I have no regrets as you are in my arms again

I used to travel all the world
I used to travel all the world
I'd try a watch in every town
A time change never got me down
I'd wind 'em up and took a spin

I used to have time on my hands
Now I got too many heroes and not enough friends
(You were both to me)
Too many heroes and not enough friends
But I have no regrets as you are in my arms again

I used to sleep so peacefully
My eyes were hush, my thoughts were free
But now my pillow is a storm
My sheets are playing tug-o-war
There's nothing here to keep me warm
Missing you is such a chore
I rarely daydream anymore

Now I got too many heroes and not enough friends
(You were both to me)
Too many heroes and not enough friends
But I have no regrets as you are in my arms again

Too many heroes and not enough friends
Too many heroes and not enough friends
Too many heroes, too many heroes
(You were both to me)
Too many heroes, too many heroes and not enough friends
(You were both to me)
Not enough friends
Too many heroes, too many heroes
(You were both to me)
