

take a number

Marian Hill

Think I know what you're thinking
How is it that I look so fine
And this room it keeps shrinking
Closing in while I take my time

You already know
You're delectable
And you think that you know me

On your pedestal
So untouchable
You must think I'm so lonely

Boy, you look so crisp, you're a salty little snack
I might call you over here and never call you back
And I know
Know you want my number
You can take a number

Boy, you look so smooth, you're a sweet little shake
And you taste like a chance that I just might take
And I know
I might take you under
You can take a number

I said, you can take a number
Yeah you heard me did I motherfuckin' stutter
Hear my tune, gettin' rude, but I still sound like butter
Got em jealous, you can't hang? Damn
Damn, that bitch a bummer
Let em go, miss his calls, you a boss
You don't need to get involved
He got problems, those are his
That is not your shit to solve
You got moves, you got bags, you got shit you gotta do
He's a moment at the most
He's not something to pursue

You won't know what you're missing
Any minute I'll blow your mind
First I'll teach you to listen
Maybe I'll let you get in line

You might never know
Unpredictable
Til I make a decision

I should tell you though
I'm insatiable
I might pay you a visit

Boy, you look so crisp, you're a salty little snack
I might call you over here and never call you back
And I know

Boy, you look so smooth, you're a sweet little shake
And I know

You can, you can
Take a number
You can, you can take a number
You can, you can
Take a number
You can, you can take a number

If I want to talk to you
You will get a call
Anything is possible
But don't wait too long

Boy, you look so crisp, you're a salty little snack
And I know

Boy, you look so nice, like a thick slice of cake
If I promise not to bite, can I take you on a date?
