

The Program

Marion

So here we are taking everything as it comes
Making plans and making flaws from what you see
Numbing thing that will make you dream
When nothing around you is real

Ever get the feeling you're losing control
You make mistakes that enhance the taste of your lows
Ever get the feeling you're losing control
Your thoughts are spaced
And there's not that much that you know

Then you're back again in the thick of it all
Are you feeling small from what you've seen?
Tell me things, show me where you've been
I've been here just doing my thing

Ever get the feeling you're losing control
You make mistakes that enhance the taste of your lows
Ever get the feeling you're losing control
Your thoughts are spaced
And there's not that much that you know

What do you want?
Now we've lost all sense of the program
What do you want?
Can you tell me something else I don't know?

Ever get the feeling you're losing control
You make mistakes that enhance the taste of your lows
Ever get the feeling you're losing control
Your thoughts are spaced
And there's not that much that you know
Know, know, know
