

Old Country

Mark Chesnutt

City sun goes down at night
Making way for neon lights
Country boy is looking at the moon

City girl is dressed just right
She may stay out late tonight
Country boy just plowed today till noon

From Birmingham to Ohio
How they met nobody knows
But every now and then they got together

She used to want to climb the walls
She'd never really been loved at all
Not until old country came to town

He's the first one to the room
Ice and drinks will be up soon
Everything is perfect when she walks in

They kiss and hold each other tight
But they know what's in store tonight
There not some place they have never been

From Birmingham to Ohio
How they met nobody knows
But every now and then they got together

She used to want to climb the walls
She'd never really been loved at all
Not until old country came to town

She used to want to climb the walls
She'd never really been loved at all
Not until old country came to town
