

Nocturne

Mark Lanegan

Red lights, X-ray vision
A lonely drug is in my veins
Blood stained indecision
Holiness is burned away

Midnight, midnight calling
Color me insane

Still-life with roses in a vase
A thorn is in your hand
Unsent letters in a box
Frozen where you stand

Do you miss me, miss me, darling?
God knows, I miss you
Somewhere else, two trains colliding
That's what the sickness brought me to

Dead right
All night
When you feel the serpent strike
Nocturne

Blacklight, house of mirrors
The heavens open up and bleed
Face down, drifting backwards
Lonely river to the sea

Midnight, midnight calling
Coloring my dreams

Anchor chained around your neck
Christ is in your hands
Whispering behind your back
Falling where you stand

Do you miss me, miss me, darling?
God knows I'm missing you
I can see two cars colliding
That's what the sickness brought me to

Do you miss me, miss me, darling?
Do you know I'm missing you
Can't you see the world is ending
That's what this damage took me to

Dead right
All night
When you feel the spider bite
Nocturne
Ooo, nocturne

Do you miss me, miss me, darling?
God knows I'm missing you
I can see two worlds colliding
That's what the sickness brought me to

Dead right
All night
When you feel the serpent strike
Nocturne
Ooo, nocturne
Nocturne