

The Sparrows and the Nightingales

Mark 'Oh

How long have you been free
In this world of hate and greed
Is it black or is it white
Let's find another compromise
And our future standing still
We're dancing in the spotlights
Where's the leader who leads me
I'm still waiting
Leaving home

REFRAIN:

And god is on your side
Dividing sparrows from the Nightingales
Watching all the time
Dividing water from the burning fire.....

Inside

Leave a light on in the night for me
That I can find you Remember when we both were young and reckless and so curious

Now you're hiding from your child...

A new day's dawning

Remember that you felt alive sometimes

REFRAIN:

And god is on your side Dividing cruelty from tender mask
Watching all the time Dividing fiction from reality
Move in circles walk on lines

No humans being in sight

Calm the winds and calm the seas

Let's try another kind of peace

Who fights this holy civil war

A million man in uniform

Wo ist der Führer der mich führt

Ich warte immer noch

Leaving home

REFRAIN:

And god is on your side

Dividing presence from the history

Watching all the time

Dividing death man from the listening once

Leave a light on in the night for me

That I can find you Remember when we both were young and reckless and so curious

Now you're hiding from your child...

A new day's dawning

Remember that you felt alive sometimes

REFRAIN:

And god is on your side Dividing soldiers from the fisherman

Watching all the time

Dividing warships from the fairyboats
