

Some Other Time

Martin Solveig

I wish I could be a different kind of man.
I wish I could see the treasures in my hands.
Achievement is worth fighting for, I'm not always sure, not I'm not so sure.
I wish I could stay a bit more off the line.
I wish I could live on an island for some time.
I won't deny I haven't take a break for a while, I know it make

Sometimes, I will take the time to think a little more.
Sometimes, I will be just fine and I won't ask for more.
Sometimes, I will clear my mind and I will make it right.
Sometimes, I will be just fine and I'll give up the fight.

I wish I could be a different kind of man.
That I found a key and never be the same.
Funny, how time changes your point of view, more than ever I ne ed you.
I wish I could stand a bit more by your side.
Leave without a plan, I really wouldn't mind.
Enough rush, I'm looking for something natural, after all.

Sometimes, I will take the time to think a little more.
Sometimes, I will be just fine and I won't ask for more.
Sometimes, I will clear my mind and I will make it right.
Sometimes, I will be just fine and I'll give up the fight.
Sometimes, I will take the time to think a little more.
Sometimes, I will be just fine and I won't ask for more.
Sometimes, I will clear my mind and I will make it right.
Sometimes, I will be just fine and I'll give up the fight.

I will be another man sometimes, I will be another man sometime s.
I will be another man sometimes, I will be another man sometime s.
I will be another man sometimes, I will be another man sometime s.
I will be another man sometimes, I will be another man sometime s.
I will be another man sometimes, I will be another man sometime s.
Some other time, some other time, some other time, some other t ime.
Some other time, some other time.
