

Some Memories Just Won't Die

Marty Robbins

You say it's over, you say it's through
It was a long long time ago
And he means nothing to you
Oh, but I heard you whisper
Someone's name in your sleep last night
Baby admit it, some memories just won't die

Oh, some memories just won't die
Some feelings just won't leave
Oh, no matter how hard you try
And I know every now and then
(Yes I know)
(Every now and then)
You still think of him, I see it in your eyes
Some memories just won't die

I thought my loving would help you forget
But something tells me you're not over him yet
Somethings haunting you way down deep inside
Am I losing you, to a memory that won't die

And some memories just won't die
Some feelings just won't leave
Oh, no matter how hard you try
And I know every now and then
(Yes I know)
(Every now and then)
You still think of him, I see it in your eyes
Some memories just won't die

Some memories just won't die
Some feelings just won't leave
Oh, no matter how hard you try
And I know every now and then
(Yes I know)
(Every now and then)
You still think of him, I see it in your eyes
Some memories just won't die

Memories just won't die
Some feelings just won't leave
Oh, no matter how hard you try
