

Windows Have Pains

Marty Robbins

It's rainin' and my windows are cryin'
You're out somewhere and I sit here dyin'
Only your memories remain
Even windows have pains 'cause they cry when it rains

Keep hopin, my heart says keep hopin'
Your future won't always be the same
Oh, but the teardrops that fall on my window
Keep sayin', you're hopin' in vain

I don't think I can take it much longer
The will to live isn't getting any stronger
And only your memories remain
Even windows have pains 'cause they cry when it rains

Keep hopin, my heart says keep hopin'
Your future won't always be the same
But the teardrops that fall on my window
Keep sayin', you're hopin' in vain

I don't think I can take it much longer
The will to live isn't getting any stronger
Only your memories remain
Even windows have pains 'cause they cry when it rains
