

Sometimes The Pleasure's Worth The Pain

Marty Stuart

I give my heart and soul to you
That's all I really know to do
If it's a crying shame
There's just myself to blame

Sometimes the pleasure's worth the pain

You cut me deep with that first kiss
Your sweet taste I could not resist
You were too wild to tame
I loved you just the same

Sometimes the pleasure's worth the pain

And though love burns and burns
I never seem to learn
I'll walk right back into the flames

Sometimes the pleasure's worth the pain
Sometimes the pleasure's worth the pain

So here I am back at your door
I can't help coming back for more
This love's a hurtin' thing
One that I can't explain

Sometimes the pleasure's worth the pain
Sometimes the pleasure's worth the pain
Sometimes the pleasure's worth the pain
