Don't ask me, I just crawled in here on my hands and knees I can't see, from the fog on my glasses and sweating to death f rom the heat

It's alright, I've been shit on before, I've had other doors sl ammed in my face

But it's cool, I'll just go back to school And learn how to lie to you better

(chorus)

Let me write it on your hand So you won't forget Forget just what you had Go and write it on your hand

13 rings, and I picked up my cell phone and you gave me hell fo rawhile

About stupid things, like hanging out with that guy, and why the hell does he always smile

It's alright, 'cause my phone's out of range, ain't it funny an d strange how you're fading away, I can't hear what you say I guess you can write me a letter

(chorus)
