

Crazy for my Sweetheart

Mary Hopkin

Love blind and crazy for my sweetheart
What shall I do?
What can I do
Without tearing out my heart?

It's not as though I had been cheated
Losing what I love
Falling down
On a battlefield defeated

Oh, please send him back again to me
Dear lady, don't you see?
He is the sun to light and warm my heart
Oh, lady please send him back home to me

Love blind and crazy for my sweetheart
What shall I do?
What can I do
Without tearing out my heart?

It's not as though I had been cheated
Losing what I love
Falling down
On a battlefield defeated

Oh, please send him back again to me
Dear lady, don't you see?
He is the sun to light and warm my heart
Oh, lady please send him back home to me

What shall I do?
What can I do?
You know it's tearing out my heart