

Fair-Weather Friends

Mary Hopkin

All your fair-weather friends
Never there when you need them
Though your pain when the storm clouds
They rain down on you

Keep your faith and you'll find
It's not all stormy weather
Turn your face to the sunshine
And the light will see you through

The price may be high
For only one mistake
And though you may feel
At times your heart may break
You know you can be sure
I'd give my love and more
You know you can be sure
Of my love (of my love)
Of my love (of my love)

And those fair-weather friends
They don't care where it's hurting
Though it's hard you can't blame them
'Cause it's been hurting for so long

The price may be high
For only one mistake
And though you may feel
At times your heart may break
You know you can be sure
I'd give my love and more
You know you can be sure
Of my love (of my love)
Of my love (of my love)
Of my love (of my love)
Of my love