

Number of The Sun

Mason Jennings

I made the mistake of my life
when I left you crying on the bed that night.
I figured on the second shot
Time is a pistol and the bullets fly.

I'd give anything
to bring you back again,
bring you back to me.

One, one is the number of the sun.
Hardcore, when it doesn't shine no more.
Two, two is the pain were going through,
still can't believe it could be true.

Three, three are you coming back to me?
We'll just have to wait and see.
For now, stranded in the cage of steel,
finding out if love is real.

You're pictures in the magazines always looked so serious and so serene.
But I remembered you from when you smiled you'd light up everyone for half a mile.

I'd give anything
to hold you close again, hold you close to me.

One, one is the number of the sun.
Hardcore, when it doesn't shine no more.
Two, two is the pain were going through,
still can't believe it could be true.

Three, three are you coming back to me?
We'll just have to wait and see.
For now, stranded in the cage of steel,
finding out if love is real.

Stranded in the cage of steel
finding out if love is real

Everyone loves someone the most.
Everyone loves someone the most.
Everyone loves someone the most.
Everyone loves someone the most.

They told me when they found you there,
you weren't wearing nothing but your underwear.
Walking out through the pouring rain,
your eyes were blank you didn't know your name.

I'd give anything
to bring you home again,
bring you home to me.

One, one is the number of the sun.
Hardcore, when it doesn't shine no more.

Two, two is the pain were going through,
still can't believe it could be true.

Three, three are you coming back to me?
We'll just have to wait and see.
For now, stranded in the cage of steel,
finding out if love is real.

Stranded in the cage of steel,
finding out if love is real.

Everyone loves someone the most.
Everyone loves someone the most.
Everyone loves someone the most.
Everyone loves someone the most.
