Stuck in line, I let it be I see the beauty in the subtleties A man returns to me a passing grin Now I belong to him in my ima gination

She almost didn't give you the message Where we would be if she never gave you the message?

I told a friend I liked her book 'Cause I understand opinion's worth It's like a boy who hear he's awfully smart He has a plan t that grows tall because he talks to it

She almost didn't give you the message Where we would be if she never you the message?

You're a pot of gold And you're sitting in the rainbow's edge T here's a marigold Growing in between your toes

You're a pot of gold Sitting in the rainbow's edge There's a ma rigold Growing in between your

I ran straight home direct from class Won't let this time come to pass Put some records on, ones you love I grab the phone, in the background "Screw Your Courage"

She almost didn't give you the message Where we would be if she never you the message?

Walking in the springtime air Push me through the door and up t he stairs Amy pointed out there was a light On a white telephon e your tenor into the night

She almost didn't give you the message Where we would be if she never you the message?

You're a pot of gold Sitting in the rainbow's edge There's a ma rigold Growing in between your toes
