Some People Fall, Some People Fly

Matraca Berg

It was a long, hard road, it was all up hill We nearly lost our way, we nearly lost our will So we clung to the rocks where the cold winds blow Till love gave us strength to finally let go

We, we climbed that mountain and we got so high Then on the wings of an angel we took to the sky Out here on the edge love dares us to try Baby, some people fall but some people fly

Many they fall for passion's kiss And many they say is this is all there is Well, it never was easy to rise above To look into the eyes of love

We, we climbed that mountain and we got so high Then on the wings of an angel we took to the sky Out here on the edge love dares us to try Baby, some people fall but some people fly

And baby, love has no fear leap And a net will appear

We, we climbed that mountain and we got so high Then on the wings of an angel we took to the sky Out here on the edge love dares us to try Baby, some people fall but some people fly

Some people fly, some people fly
