

Last Love Song

Matt Costa

If I'd never heard your voice
Never known its pleasant sound
My time on earth would be dissonant discord
If I'd never heard your voice

If I'd never touched your hand
I'd mistake love for a blade
Didn't know what to expect that night
But it was someone I could hold through my whole life

If I'd never seen your face
Never known my other half
I'd be half the man I have come to be
You're the reason why love makes people sing
Today is our anniversary
Love you
Love you, love you