

Don't Let Your Heart Grow Cold

Matt Hires

The winter will turn into springtime
It's been that way all my life
But I always forget when I'm freezing
When the days are shorter than the nights

I've lived so many lives in my lifetime
There were few I could've lived without
I found a beautiful world in some others
Trying to figure out the one right now

But every day I look more like my father
I hope the change is on the inside, too
I want to learn how to love like my mother
I want to always see the best in you

So I married a girl in the springtime
And I swear that she's the love of my life
That doesn't mean it's always easy
It just means it's worth the fight

And to my friends that are more like my family
I love you all so, so much
Sometimes the things we hold on to the strongest
Those are the things we don't say enough

So I'm gonna keep writing and singing
Until I burn out or fade away
Out of all of the words that I'm leaving
There's really one thing I want to say

Oh... Don't let your heart grow cold
Oh... Don't let your heart grow cold
Cause there's a love that won't let go
Crashing into you
Oh... Don't let your heart grow cold

Yeah there's a love that won't let go crashing into you
Oh oh oh oh... Don't let your heart grow cold
Ohh
