

(Let the walls fall down)

How could I be silent anymore
For all you are and all you've done, my Lord
How could I bow down to anyone but you
In my heart I'll make an altar
For you alone to dwell forever
In my heart I only want to live for you
And my soul cries out to you
Yeah, my soul cries out to you

You are beautiful, glorious, wonderful, Lord Jesus
Forever will I worship you, forever will I sing
You are beautiful, glorious, wonderful, Lord Jesus
Forever will I worship you at the sound of your name

The world of man will rise and fall
Under the weight of your great love
And every one will praise your name for you are God
All your children will return
To the table of the Lord
And everyone will praise your name for you are God
I will stake my claim in you
I will stake my claim in you

You are beautiful, glorious, wonderful, Lord Jesus
Forever will I worship you, forever will I sing
You are beautiful, glorious, wonderful, Lord Jesus
Forever will I worship you at the sound of your name
At the sound of your name

Let the walls fall down at the sound of your name
Let the earth bow down at the sound of your name
Let your people pray at the sound of your name
Let your glory fall at the sound of your name

You are beautiful, glorious, wonderful, Lord Jesus
Forever will I worship you, forever will I sing
You are beautiful, glorious, wonderful, Lord Jesus
Forever will I worship you at the sound of your name

At the sound of your name
At the sound of your name
At the sound of your name
At the sound of your name
