

Magic Boyfriend

Matt Pond PA

You were telling me last night
You were laughing through your tears
About the moon and the stars
Nothing seemed that clear
You need a magic boyfriend
You want a magic boyfriend
Someone who understands

You tried to read those stars
But you were too drunk to see
It's kind of hard to trust
Without innocence and luck
You need a magic boyfriend
You want a magic boyfriend
Someone who loves you so

It'll never be that right
It'll never be that wrong
You're heading for the night
That's as real as it's long
You need a magic boyfriend
You want a magic boyfriend
Someone who understands

You were telling me last night
You were laughing through your tears
About the moon and the stars
Nothing seemed that clear
You need a magic boyfriend
You want a magic boyfriend
Someone who loves you so
You want a magic boyfriend
You need a magic boyfriend
Someone who understands