

Echoes of Eden

Matthew Perryman Jones

I've been driving
On the highway
That leads to my hometown
All the memories
Buried inside me
I'm diggin' up like treasure in the ground

My father told me
As I grew older
To keep on finding faces in the clouds
Dance with mystery
And as you hold her
she may whisper her secrets through the shroud

And I am listening now

A change is calling out
I can feel it's breath
My fears are falling down
Right to their death
May they rest

We're telling stories
Left in the distance
That touch that longing deep inside
Echoes of Eden
Our cries for freedom
They will lead us to that City glorified

Oh, I don't want to hide

A change is calling out
I can feel it's breath
My fears are falling down
Right to their death
May they rest
