I Remember

Maureen McGovern

I remember sky It was blue as ink Or at least, I think I remember sky

I remember snow Soft as feathers, Sharp as thumbtacks, Coming down like lint And it made me squint When the wind would blow

And ice like vinyl on the streets, Cold as silver, white as sheets Rain like strings And changing things Like leaves

I remember leaves Green as spearmint, Crisp as paper I remember trees Bare as coatracks, Spread like broken umbrellas

And parks and bridges, ponds and zoos, Ruddy faces, muddy shoes, Light and noise And bees and boys And days

I remember days Or at least, I try But as years go by, They're a sort of haze

And the bluest ink Isn't really sky And at times, I think I would gladly die For a day of sky
