

Not Easy Love

Maverick Sabre

It's not easy love
I don't know if you remember
I'm unreasonable
I find it hard to surrender
It's not easy love
I don't know if you remember
I'm unreasonable
I find it hard to surrender

I just need your something for the evening
Maybe if we're lucky, last the weekend
Wish that I could give you more than pieces, and I'd love to try but something always keeps me back
From giving all that I can give, I cannot fight
A reason in your perfection to not even reply

It's not easy love
I don't know if you remember
I'm unreasonable
I find it hard to surrender
It's not easy love
I don't know if you remember
I'm unreasonable
I find it hard to surrender

Don't you know I know it's never been that easy
When I call you always tell me that you're busy
And deep inside been knowing that you need me
But I don't think you know yourself enough to say you're weak
It's like you've finally made your mind up
You keep putting your pride over my love
I'm losing reasons to believe

It's not easy love
I don't know if you remember
I'm unreasonable
I find it hard to surrender
It's not easy love
I don't know if you remember
I'm unreasonable
I find it hard to surrender

It's not easy love
(Yeah, that's the fucking one)

It's not easy love
I don't know if you remember
