

She Still Knows

Me vs Hero

Let this go some how she always finds me even when I'm on the road it's like I never left at all
'Yeah' she still knows what it takes to break my temper
Just when I think shes through guess who's lighting up my phone
Your true intentions hide so well behind your smile
'She still knows'
When the lights come crashing down I hope you learn from this

This is more than I can take
Again you cut your nose off just to spite your face
Selfish and vindictive shoot to kill just like you mean it
If it's up to me its down to you to change
'It's down to you to change'

A brand new chapter to the story I realised
That she's the enemy I can see it in her eyes
We're holding on to nothing more than tension
What will it take to break this chain
Your true intentions hide so well behind your smile
'She still knows'
What it takes to break me down
'She still knows'

This is more than I can take
Again you cut your nose off just to spite your face
Selfish and vindictive shoot to kill just like you mean it
If it's up to me its down to you to change
'It's down to you to change'

She still knows what it takes to break me down
