

Loss

Meden Agan

Gazing out of the window
With an empty look in the eyes
A pale face under the moonlit sky
Seeking desperately for a sign
Your voice in the night
I am alive, yet dead inside
It's been so long since we parted
Your laughter chills my skin
Your presence is still haunting my dreams
I can't bare this pain anymore
Your voice in my mind
I am alive, yet lost inside
Once I dreamed of my destiny
I closed my eyes trying to answer why
Then, I knew with clarity
I flew too high
but I never reached the sky
Once I dreamed of my destiny
I closed my eyes trying to answer why
Then, I knew with clarity
I flew too high,
but I never reached the sky
But I never reached the sky
