

The One

Meja

I can't be sad
There's nothing to be sad for
I can't say
That you were The One

So after all this time I still recall
How the sunlight fell on my face
And my tears dried
So sad for something out of my control
Only the longing from the spirit
To have a hand to hold
And show the love I've been told

I can't be sad
There's nothing to be sad for
I can't say
That I am losing you
When you were the one, you were the one
You were the one I never had

The loss is something that I've learned to see
Not as something failed, but a victory
How unpredictable are not the ways
Of the flowing water and the sunrays
As well as love
Will twist and turn

I can't be sad
There's nothing to be sad for
I can't say
That I am losing you
When you were the one, you were the one
You were the one I never had

But right here right now I stop this fight
This struggle for more
Cuz I know you won't be there
You were not what I was looking for

I can't be sad
There's nothing to be sad for
I can't say
That I am losing you
When you were the one, you were the one
You were the one I never had
