

Still Desire You

Melanie Doane

You, you leave me wanting more
Leave me waiting at the door
You leave a lot to be desired

You, leave a lot of things unsaid
Sometimes I say them in my head
You leave a lot to be desired

You never make me eggs in the morning
We never do it on the floor
You never tell me how good I'm looking
You don't bring me flowers anymore.

You, leave a lot to be desired
But I still desire you (I still desire you)
And no matter what you do (No matter what you do)
I will still desire you

You, like to fight about stupid stuff
Leave the seat up if you must
You leave a lot to be desired

You don't know lingerie from laundry
You don't know things that turn me on
You don't know Pepsi ads from poetry
You don't sing me any love songs

You leave a lot to be desired
But I still desire you (I still desire you)
And no matter what you do (No matter what you do)
I will still desire you

So you won't ever be a star
So you don't drive a real cool car
Sometimes it feels like we're at war
Then I want you even more

You leave a lot to be desired
But I still desire you (I still desire you)
And no matter what you do (No matter what you do)
I will still desire you

You leave a lot to be desired
But I still desire you (I still desire you)
And no matter what you do (No matter what you do)
I will still desire you