

Shed The Old Skin

Memoria

I'm finally shedding old skin
Of painful losses
Sweep away worries and all fears
I am breaking the narrow shell
Crushing hard core
Of all dated histories
Heading for a crazy destination
To go "Somewhere ... Devil may care"
I'm stripping off the black veil of my sorrow
And all wasted chances

Let me leave all the fears far behind
Let me leave them and disappear
No way back, no way out
When you lose
No way back for a tainted one
No way back, no way out
When you lose
No way back for a tainted one

Shake off leaves of weary feelings
Make me up a brand new smile
Lacing up for a happy, happy walk
Putting on a sunny hat
A hat that will keep away the rain
To keep me safe and dry
From the rain of tears that falls
Around ... Around

Let me leave all the fears far behind
Let me leave them and disappear
No way back, no way out
When you lose
No way back for a tainted one
No way back, no way out
When you lose
No way back for a tainted one

Let me leave all the fears far behind
Let me leave them and disappear ...
