

Splintered Heaven

Memoria

I've played the fool for so many times
I have been down, you know how it hurts
Read the writing on the wall
Now it's time to go on

Hopes fell apart when blue daylight
Drew my shadows from behind
They keep me a silent company
When it's time to go on
When it's time to clear out
All the dust and ash of might-have-been

Wash bloody hands of all your dirty lies
Cry for the moon as you fantasize
Heavenly sister
Nothing but shooting star
Hot and glamorous, now here, then gone
Meets her horizon
Gone like your evil twin

Wash bloody hands of all your dirty lies
Cry for the moon because you only fantasize
Heavenly sister
Nothing but shooting star
Hot and glamorous, now here and then
Meets her horizon,
Gone like your evil twin

Your evil twin has caused too much pain
I want to forgive you, I'd like to hear
"I need you beside me", hold me tight
Let me feel, I am
The shooting star on your horizon
Now here and tomorrow gone
