

Concrete & Clay

Mental As Anything

You to me
Are sweet as roses in the morning
You to me
Are soft as summer rain at dawn
In love we share
That something rare

The sidewalks in the streets
The concrete and the clay
Beneath my feet
Begin to crumble
But love will never die
Because we'll see the mountains tumble
Before we say goodbye

My love and I
Will be
In love eternally
That's the way
Mmm, the way it's meant to be

All around
I see the purple shade of evening
And on the ground
The shadows fall and once again
You're in my arms
So tenderly

The sidewalks in the streets
The concrete and the clay
Beneath my feet
Begin to crumble
But love will never die

Because we'll see the mountains tumble
Before we say goodbye

My love and I
Will be
In love eternally
That's the way
Mmm, the way it's meant to be

The sidewalks in the streets
The concrete and the clay
Beneath my feet
Begin to crumble
But love will never die
Because we'll see the mountains tumble
Before we say goodbye

My love and I
Will be
In love eternally
That's the way
Mmm, the way it's meant to be
That's the way

That's the way it's meant to be
That's the way
That's the way it's meant to be

You to me
Are sweet as roses in the morning
You to me
Are soft as summer rain at dawn in
