

The Girl

Mental As Anything

The girl in my life is rare to behold
She is not fat not skinny and she's not old
The girl in my life goes to work in town
And we go together and lie down

This striking female, this singular lover of the summer sun
Induces me to laugh a while, even to make rude fun

Though her teeth are sharp and her tongue is barbed
She does not give a thought about life or love
Or subtlety or kissing in the dark or nights alone

Though her teeth are sharp and her tongue is barbed
She does not give a thought about life or love
Or subtlety or kissing in the dark or nights alone
