

The Mad King

Mental As Anything

Someday baby you will be mine
Someday darling all in good time
Feverish ravings, spend them on you
Take my savings, spend them all too

Baby oh baby, what can I do
I know I love you, you love me too
It's complicated in my mind
I'm separating cruel from kind

Forgive me baby it's a seasonal change
You must be lucky 'cause you're well out of range
Forgive me baby I would mess you around
Stay up, it's better than down

Someday baby I will find you
Sometime darling when I am through
With stern faces, white shirts, holding me down
Can't see the blue skies through all their frowns

It's complicated in my mind
I'm separating cruel from kind
I want to hold you every night
Darling oh darling I need your help

Forgive me baby it's a seasonal change

You must be lucky 'cause you're well out of range
Forgive me baby I would mess you around
Stay up, it's better than down
Stay up, it's better than down

When the national anthem plays
Then I will sit while you should stand
Coronate me now before the whole world disappears

Someday baby I will be king
Someday darling people will sing
The royal couple sitting in bed
Please, please release my head
And crown it instead

Forgive me baby it's a seasonal change
You must be lucky 'cause you're well out of range
Forgive me baby I would mess you around
Stay up, it's better than down
Stay up, it's better than down
Better than down, better than down
Better than down

I am not the mad king
I am not the mad king
I am not the mad king
I am...
