

My Heart Will Fly

MercyMe

Why this happened i cannot explain why write the script with such heartache and pain could there not have been an easier way watching life through this glass so faded i cannot see the bigger picture taking place oh to understand one day.

My heart will fly
when i finally see you face to face And my tears will fly away, away.

It won't be long until we all go home with all things revealed and on that day we'll finally know oh, as we are fully known.
And what appears as incomplete is still completely Yours and one day we'll see as we've been seen and we'll soar. [back to chorus]
