

Open The Gates Of Hell

Metal Law

"Open the gates of hell
Open the gates, open the gates
Open the gates, open the gates
Open the gates... of hell!"

I have done it all, my concubine
And no one shall touch safe I'm the one
From me come cancer, pox and plague
Here I am and now I reign

Think you fool that you know anger and pain
And all that's lost is mine to gain
There is no hell other than my spirit
Upon you all the plagues shall visit

Terror of darkness, blindness of night
In stale stagnant water
Your soul is in plight

Terror of darkness, blindness of night
The watcher is waiting
And he has you in sight

I have done it all, my concubine
And no one shall touch safe I'm the one
From me come cancer, pox and pla
Here I am and now I reign

Think you fool that you know anger and pain
And all that's lost is mine to gain
There is no hell other than my spirit
Upon you all the plagues shall visit

There is no hell other than my spirit
Upon you all the plagues shall visit

Terror of darkness, blindness of night
In stale stagnant water
Your soul is in plight

Terror of darkness, blindness of night
The watcher is waiting
And he has you in sight

Open the gates of hell
