

Thin Guy

Metal Law

In the night, I cannot sleep as ever
And fading moonlight falls down on my face
There is someone at my window
Such a thin guy with green feathers on the skin

To decide it we have no time now
I offer you now to come along with me
Then you can be rocking, so silent, so dreamy
You can't lose there, you can only win

He was the Metal King from the moon
He was the Metal King from the moon
He was the Metal King from the moon
He was the Metal King from the moon

Let's begin now the flight to this dimension
You will lose there every feeling of your pain
Far away time is of no importance
Hurry up now, my little friend, and let us fly

He was the Metal King from the moon
He was the Metal King from the moon
He was the Metal King from the moon
He was the Metal King from the moon

He was the Metal King from the moon
He was the Metal King from the moon

He was the Metal King...
