

Sailing Without A Sail

Michael Johnson

In the dark of the night something magic in the words that you breathe in my ear let the highway unwind get me lost, love me blind Take me sailing without any sail rolling without a rail
traveling on a mysterious trail with you There's a spark in your touch when we're dancing and the light in your eyes seems to say i don't care where we go take me fast, take me slow
Take me sailing without any sail
traveling on a mysterious trail with you
take me fast, take me slow
Take me sailing without any sail
traveling on a mysterious trail with you take me sailing, take me rolling take me traveling on a mysterious trail with you
