

Cry No More

The Michael Schenker Group

When you were tangled in the sheets
Did your soul get burned
Just trying to make ends meet
Now the tide has turned

But I will be there tomorrow
No need to cry no more

When will you ever realize
You are blessed not cursed
And things you sacrifice
Only make things worse

But I will be there tomorrow
No need to cry no more
I will be there tomorrow
No need to cry no more

Tell me who are the tears for
That fall in your life
And who are you here for
When you see me tonight

Night has fallen once again
Time to break that spell
Can we make it to the end
Only time will tell

But I will be there tomorrow
No need to cry no more

And where is that fire
That burned in your eyes
Don't kill that desire
That keeps you alive

If you listen to my heart
If you read my mind
Light will glisten from the stars
If you see the signs

And I will be there tomorrow
No need to cry no more
I will be there tomorrow
No need to cry no more

Cry no more
No need to cry no more

No need to cry no more
