

Crazy Little Bars

Michal Bajor

How many mountains is it possible to climb
Before you fall beneath the sands of time
How many roads must you walk along
Before you conscience tells you that you're wrong

The answer's in the stars, they say
And in crazy little bars so far away, they say
Those hazy little stars, so far away, they say
Are crazy little bars and that's OK
'cause one day I'll be there

Will all your riches and all of your gold
Keep you in health or keep you from the cold
Will all your friends stand by your side
Be the ones in whom you can confide

The answer's in the stars, they say
And in crazy little bars so far away, they say
Those hazy little stars, so far away, they say
Are crazy little bars and that's OK
'cause one day I'll be there

Don't wanna know the answer to all the questions
I feel it all deep inside
It keeps me satisfied
But when I'm feeling lonely, I wanna fly
To the edge of the lights up so high
To star - studded bars up in the sky

How many days must you always wait
When the love that you need comes so late
Will all your passion come crashing to the ground
When the seeds of virtue can't be found
