

Hello Solitude

Michal Bajor

Hello... again, have you seen the weather
Take a look out the window
I've been here since two
Just waiting for you
I can't understand it
How long?

Hello.... again, been thinking 'bout you since the morning
We're two little souls
With similar goals
I can't understand it
How long?

Will it take for you to notice me too
In my grey little world that took me and hurled me
And muddled and huddled me into this space, I can't even face
A new day, a blue day, I need you, I love you, I want you

To be with me
Can't you see me... here?

Hello... again, have you seen the weather
Take a look out the window
I've been here since two
Just waiting for you
I can't understand it
How long?

Will it take for you to notice me too
In my grey little world that took me and hurled me
And muddled and huddled me into this space, I can't even face
A new day, a blue day, I need you, I love you, I want you

Can I wait for you to show me a sign
A way to heaven, so throw me the line
A key to your life, you're lonely, you haunt me
I see you so much I can feel your touch, I need you, I love you, I want you

To be with me
Can't you see me... here?

I'll never dream again
So many times...
'bout anyone' cept you
So many sleepless 'n' lonely nights
Just wait, that's all I can do
