

In the morning I'd wake in bed
Drive the streets through the city I live
And these days got a long way to go
Sounds of sirens, shitty and bright they come
Like a loudmouth kid
And these days got a long way to go
But back then they moved way too slow

Hold your breath man
Steady your gun and aim
See the crosshairs fire
These days never come here to stay
You shut your eyes and they've all gone away

You're focusing on your state of mind
And it's in your way
It's in your way and
No one could know
That you were gonna feel so all alone
At that bitter end
That you were gonna be so numb

Just because you said it
Doesn't make it so
These days got a long way to go

You're mine, that's the way it is
In your eyes, that's the way it is
You won't change, that's the way it is
That's the way it is

In your mind, that's the way it is
(It don't matter)
In your eyes, that's the way it is
(It don't matter)
You won't change, that's the way it is
(It don't matter)
That's the way it is (yeah)

No one needs to tell you
What you already know
These days got a long way to go
These days got a long way to go

These days got a long way to go
